

PATIENT GUIDE

Getting Support: Treatment

The aim of this patient guide is to provide you with a list of organisations and helpful resources related to your melanoma treatment. It is important to note that not all resources will be necessary or relevant to you. Some of the resources mentioned here might become more important as you go through your melanoma journey.

Please note:

- All links provided were accessible at the time of publishing. If you encounter any difficulties please reach out to Melanoma Patients Australia for assistance.
- This is not an exhaustive list. Please check your individual states for state-based support and care.
